Customer Problem Statement Template

I am a middle-income working professional juggling multiple active loans, credit cards, and EMI's.

a financially distressed individual facing sudden cash flow issues and aggressive collection pressure.

I'm trying to create a structured, realistic debt repayment and settlement schedule to clear what I owe.

understand my financial stress level and draft professional, customized hardship or negotiation letters to send to my lenders.

But

it takes a long time and is incredibly confusing to manually calculate debt snowball horizons or figure out safe settlement math.

I don't know the proper financial or legal terminology required to communicate effectively.

Because

traditional spreadsheet tools are too rigid and I lack an automated financial engine that customizes a strategy based on my specific income rules.

hiring a human financial advisor or debt lawyer is far too expensive for my current budget.

Which makes me feel overwhelmed and anxious.

intimidated and helpless.
